U. S. GREGORY BADLY BEATEN

Davis Carries County by
Two Hundred and
Sixty Nine
Votes

The result of the county election of local officers was landside for the republicans. While the republicans did not elect the whole of their ticket, and some good and capable men went down to defeat, still it must be confessed that the voters exercised the right of suffrage with unusual care and judgment. The really important offices which were contested fell to the republicans, and against the incumbents or the aspirants for the party succession. The sheriffship was the main contest. This position was contested on both sides with keen interest and vim, the incumbent to retain his seat and the opposition to depose him.

While the supporters of Davis were confident all along that victory would rest with their side, it was hardly expected that the triumph would be so decisive, that the war-horse of democracy who has filled the office for four years would be bumped from the official pedestal so hard. Judge Wood's victory was expected, and that too by a big margin. A majority of 500 was confidently predicted from the outset of the campaign, the vote goes 50 per cent better than that. The district attorneyship was another office around which public interest largely centered on account of the importance attached to it from the taxpayer's viewpoint.

Skating Rink

The Jackson skating rink was opened for the winter season last evening by Joseph Ratto. There was a large attendance. Good skates, good music and smooth floor at every session. Special—Wednesday afternoon for ladies; Saturday afternoon, school children; Sunday afternoon for the general public. Children not allowed at the evening session unless accompanied by their parents. Spectators free. Electric Military Band organ.

A Faithful Worker

F. W. Parker, who has for many years past served Jackson as a night watchman, resigned that position on the first of this month. His family removed to Richmond several weeks ago, where they expect to make their future home. True to his party, the old watchman remained in this city long enough to exercise his privileges at the polls, and left the city on Thursday morning.

Mr Parker takes with him the best wishes of his large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Card of Thanks

Jackson, Cal., November 10, 1910.
To the citizens of Amador Co.:

I take this opportunity through the public press, to express my gratitude to the people of this county, irrespective of political affiliations, for the splendid endorsement you have given to my administration as judge of the superior court during the past two years. It shall continue to be my honest endeavor to so govern my official conduct that no person shall have just cause to complain. Mere words can not express my appreciation of the efforts of my friends who have labored so hard to bring about this result.

SUICIDE'S BODY IS RECOVERED

Taken From Reservoir
After Several Day's Search

The body of O. Johnson who committed suicide by drowning in the Argonaut reservoir last week, and whose body remained in the water used for domestic purposes by this city, for several days, was recovered on Saturday morning by several miners employed by the Argonaut mining company, after a tireless search of the bottom with grappling irons.

The remains were taken in charge by undertakers Huberty and Giovannoni, and removed to their undertaking parlors on Broadway.

Coroner Potter was summoned, and held an inquest over the remains. A verdict of drowning with deliberate intent to commit suicide was rendered, after hearing the testimony P. H. Grady, ditch tender for the Pacific Gas & Power Company informed us that he met Johnson on the banks of the reservoir on Monday September 30, about 1:45 p. m., while, he was making his rounds. The man had neither coat nor hat on, and I spoke to him, and received a reply, it never occurring to me that he was preparing to take his life.

The Argonaut reservoir was emptied last Saturday night. The dispute about the payment of costs, of water, etc., incident to the possible shutting down of the Argonaut mine for a day or two, was adjusted by the Pacific Gas and Electric company offering to refill the reservoir free of cost to the company. So they started Friday, the water therein being utilized both for running the hoist and mill by water power, so as more quickly to exhaust the reservoir. The mill is usually operated by electric power. In three or four hours the water was reduced several feet, and to such an extent that the power was barely sufficient to start the loaded skip from the lower level, owing to the reduced pressure. As soon as the day brake Saturday morning, some of the miners from the Argonaut found the body, a short distance from the point of junction of the two reservoirs of the Argonaut. It was in the larger reservoir, and a hundred feet or more from the spot where the suicide is supposed to have jumped into the water from the raft. The suction of the water caused by the outflow of water had evidently drawn the body to the place where it was found. The Argonaut company did not have to suspend operations at all on account of the emptying of the reservoir, although the work was interfered with considerably.

After the body was recovered the flood gates on this side of the reservoir were opened and the stream allowed to drain empty.

A brother of Oscar Johnson, the suicide who drowned himself in the Argonaut reservoir, arrived from Nevada on Wednesday evening, to take charge of the funeral arrangements of his brother. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, the remains being interred in the city cemetery.

Committed to Asylum

Frank Berg, who formerly resided near Defender, was given an examination in the superior court on Monday last on the charge of insanity. He was committed to the insane asylum at Napa, after sufficient evidence had been shown to warrant his confinement. Berg imagined he was persecuted by his friends, and became dangerously insane over the matter. His wife died several years ago, and he has several children who live in the upper section of the county.

Berg is 53 years old and a native of Sweden. Drs. Gall and Endicott examined the unfortunate man, and adjudged him hopelessly insane.

Hiram W. Johnson, governor-elect of California carried with him to honors the entire state ticket.

Congressman Englebright of the first district won out over Raker his opponent by more than 1000 majority.

Booster Go to Amador

A large crowd of enthusiastic high school boosters for Jackson, drove over to Amador on Sunday afternoon to attend a high school rally in that town. The large bus was decorated with banners appropriately inscribed for the occasion.

W. H. Greenhalgh presided at the meeting, which though rather small, was zealously enjoyed.

Teachers' Institute

Arrangements have been made to hold the next teachers' institute of Amador county in Berkeley, December 27 to the 30th with the California Teachers' Association. The railroad fare will be one and one third. Arrangements have been made with the Golden West hotel in San Francisco, for rooms to accommodate the teachers from the county at satisfactory rates.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB SUCCESS

Jackson Ladies Deserve
Much Credit for High School Victory

The Ladies' Improvement Club at Jackson did themselves full credit on last Saturday evening in their high school rally program. Nothing could have been added to make the occasion more interesting or enjoyable.

At seven o'clock in the evening, the various classes under their respective teachers assembled at the school grounds and formed ranks. The children all carried flags and many carried banners bearing mottoes appealing to the voters to do their duty at the polls.

The Jackson Military band headed the procession which marched from the school grounds to the front of the National hotel, where the speaking was held. The National hotel was beautifully decorated and as soon as the scholars had seated themselves in the benches provided for them on Main street, the band opened the program with a selection.

Dr. Endicott opened the speaking by explaining the conditions confronting us which demand a high school for children. He received hearty applause at the conclusion of his talk. He then introduced Dr. J. F. Wilson as the chairman of the meeting. Dr. Wilson made a few brief remarks which were heartily enjoyed, and was followed by a rally song by the school children. Mrs Sargent gave an address to mothers, which was full of convincing arguments that a high school was necessary in this county. Jas. J. Wright, very ably spoke along subjects pertaining to the high school, and the necessity of having such an institution.

The school rendered the national song "Columbia." This was followed by Mrs A. Caminetti, who lauded the high school movement.

Superintendent of schools, Greenhalgh, declared the county was facing an issue in which every voter should take a particular interest and perform a duty which he owes to the coming generation, by giving them means to become educated and thus put them on an equal footing with the outsider who ventures into the community from sections where educational advantages could be had.

Prof. Wylie, principal of Jackson grammar school, gave several very substantial arguments in favor of the undertaking.

The school children then sang America which concluded the program.

The street was crowded with attentive listeners from the opening until the closing of the program, and there is no room for doubt, but that the meeting had its desired effect in this city.

Mrs. W. P. Peek

Laid to Last Rest

Mrs W. P. Peek died, after a lingering illness, on Sunday last about noon. An attack of pneumonia appeared after a protracted siege of sickness, and the end came in a few days thereafter. She was stricken with paralysis two years ago, and was an invalid from that time, until the end. All that careful nursing and medical skill could do was done to relieve her sufferings and defer the inevitable fatal termination.

Deceased was a native of Belfast, Ireland, and was 77 years and six days old. At an early age she came to America. She was married to W. P. Peek in September, 1855, in Illinois. and immediately thereafter came with her husband to California. Mr Peek having been in this state for about one year before returning to Illinois for the purpose of forming this life partnership. For many years they lived at Mokelumne Hill, Calaveras county, and moved thence to Jackson about thirty years ago, and have resided here ever since.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. C. Duncan officiating at the ceremony. Interment was held in the Protestant cemetery.

Besides her husband, she leaves to lament her decease four sons, namely, Frank Peek of Mokelumne Hill, John C., Charles D., of Jackson, and Thomas Peek of Oakland, also two daughters, Miss Millie Peek, and Mrs Alice Jones of Jackson.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL WON

Voters Carried Issue By Large Majority on Monday

The election for the establishing of a county high school was held throughout Amador county last Monday. Every part of the county participated except that portion of the valley comprising the lone union high school district, as such district will be exempt from the tax for support of the county high school, being supplied with school facilities of that character before the adoption of a county high school.

As was expected the vote in the larger towns—Jackson and Sutter Creek—was overwhelmingly in favor of the high school, while the outlying country districts were strong against the project. The vote of the centers of population was decisive of the outcome. There was about fifty per cent vote polled. The result in the respective precincts was as follows:

Precincts	For	Against
Jackson 1	118	14
Jackson 2	111	11
Jackson 3	106	15
North Jackson	35	10
South Jackson	53	6
West Jackson	31	20
Buena Vista	1	48
Lancha Plana	3	48
Oleta	3	12
Volcano	59	12
Pine Grove	..	..
North Amador	..	..
South Amador	88	7
East Sutter Creek	251	27
West Sutter Creek	..	..
North Plymouth	28	42
South Plymouth	16	30
Drytown	27	20
Forest Home	..	..
Total	967	330

The returns from Pine Grove, Forest Home and Lancha Plana were not received in the clerk's office up to Tuesday evening. However, the vote is overwhelming enough to make these precincts of little importance as far as the result is concerned.

The county having voted for the establishment of a county high school, the question that will now agitate the county is where shall it be located. This matter will first have to go to the county board of education and can only be settled by that body by an unanimous vote. In the event of a failure to secure this unanimous vote for any site, the proposition will have to be submitted to a vote of the people at a special election. Such election cannot be held hardly in less than six months.

Old Resident Buried

Mrs Elizabeth Francis passed away at her home, 37 Broadway on Saturday night last, after suffering for many months with Brights disease. She was a native of England, and was 64 years of age.

Funeral services were held at her late residence on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, and the remains taken to Grass Valley on Monday and interment made on Tuesday afternoon.

Two children survive the deceased, Miss Alma and Jack Francis, both of this city.

A Roorback Extra

The Amador Dispatch went to the trouble to send out an extra edition on Saturday. Whv this course was adopted does not appear. It would seem that some of the candidates became scared at the democratic prospects, and decided to make a last appeal to the voters, thinking that the last say is decisive. Certainly there was nothing in the columns of the Ledger to call for an extra edition to counteract its effect. We strictly adhered to our usual policy of making no new charges against any candidate of the opposing party in our last issue. Nevertheless, the Dispatch extra showed a bad case of Ledger on the brain, and that is about all it did show. It was a denunciation of the Ledger as a sheet full of lies, but it forgot to tell wherein the false statements consisted.

The extra was roundly condemned, outside of partisanship. It was a blunder, and certainly had no tendency to help those it was intended to help. But it illustrated democratic methods of campaigning. The Ledger paid no attention to it. It carried its own condemnation.

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS.

The outcome of the election this week, while on the whole favoring the democratic party from a national viewpoint, was largely discounted by popular opinion. That the democrats would make gains was fully expected, owing to the internal strife that has been raging within the republican ranks in almost every strong republican state throughout the Union for the past two years. Giving them full credit for sincerity there can be no question that the so-called "insurgency" movement has seriously interfered with republican prospects in every state. In New York—the storm center of the movement—the grand old party, marshaled by Roosevelt, the apostle of the new political cult labeled "new nationalism," went down to defeat by over 50,000. In Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska and other states, the republicans suffered loss. It is probable that the democrats will have a clear majority in the house of representatives in the next congress. While they cannot do much in the way of enacting their tariff reform notions into law, owing to a republican senate and president, they can, if they choose, block useful legislation in accord with republican policies. The loss of control of congress should serve to impress upon republicans the necessity of getting together for the presidential struggle two years hence. The terms "reactionaries" and "progressives" are out of place and objectionable as applied to republicans. The republican party has ever been and still is the party of progress. The history of the United States under its guidance sufficiently attests this fact—the most marvelous instance of national advancement the world has witnessed. Opinions may differ as to the exact course to take in order to secure the greatest measure of progress. It is absurd to expect unanimity of sentiment on such matters. In affiliating with any political organization, it is essential to be tolerant of differences on minor questions. And to bandy names because we cannot all think alike is not wise.

In California the republicans scored a notable victory considering the circumstances. They have made a clean sweep, and return a solid delegation to the next congress. The party majority has been cut down materially, owing to factional differences. To come out of the ordeal with every state and district office to the party's credit is certainly an achievement to be proud of. Johnson, who had everything to do with the conduct of the campaign, is a man of strong individuality. All through he displayed an aggressiveness of character, and at the same time a disregard of ordinary political methods, that captivated the voters. He impressed them as one who was impelled on by a stern sense of duty to undertake a definite mission; he meant everything he said; his evident sincerity was his stronghold with the people; they had confidence that he would endeavor to shape his actions to accord with his words. Bell is no doubt equally as sincere, but there was not that abandonment of diplomacy which was so marked a feature on the other side. California will have a brainy, honest and fearless executive at the head of the head of the government for the next four year, who will be guided by his own judgment of what is right and best for the welfare of the state. No man ever assumed the responsibilities of the office with loftier aims, or a firmer determination to accomplish those reforms which he believes are of paramount importance to the welfare of California. His efforts should be backed by a united party, for without the help of other branches of the government he can accomplish little. The factional spirit must be dropped, and harmony restored, by a fair and full recognition of all elements composing the administration party.

In county affairs the voters scored decisively in favor of a radical change. They registered their disapproval of the methods of management in no uncertain voice. Those retained in office are men against whose official record nothing could be said, and who were admitted by the Ledger to be faithful public servants. One the other hand, the managing democratic clique was utterly disrupted, and its plans frustrated. The battle focused around the sheriff's office. Every device known to the veteran politician was resorted to in the hope of staving off defeat, even to extent of appealing to personal prejudice by a scurrilous extra of the Dispatch issued in the closing hours of the campaign, asking citizens to vote for Gregory and others simply as a rebuke to the Ledger for daring to ventilate county management. The rebuke came, but it was very different from the one sought. The Ledger is more than pleased with the verdict.

UNITED STATES PENSION LIST

Figures Show Roll Is Steadily Enlarging Each Year

The World's Work, a notably reliable and well-conducted magazine, is printing a startling series of articles under the above caption. Less it seems cowardly of the journalistic profession that this has been so long delayed (and it is that to some extent perhaps,) it should be remembered that this evil did not come suddenly; from a good beginning it has progressed gradually, aided by legislation, and unscrupulous men in the government and out of it. That is shown clearly in the article in the November issue. It has been a steady growth like a snowball rolling down hill, until it becomes an avalanche.

It is shown that it would be utterly impossible for as many men to be living now who received injuries in the Civil war as are drawing pensions for such injuries.

Figures for the last complete pension roll, which was that of 1909, showed that the government paid out $161,973,703 to 964,194 pensioners. That is approximately ten times as much as was paid out the year following the Civil war, when the claims on the government would naturally be large. But, as it takes time to file these claims and have a pension granted, a later year might afford a fairer example. In 1875, for instance years after the close of the war, and when all those whose health was damaged in the service had ample time to find it out, the pension budget amounted to $29,275,000, which is a comparatively small portion of its present total.

Of the men and influences which have built up the pension roll to its present proportions, few enough were moved by honest patriotism, it seems. One of the foremost power in the work has been the army of pension attorneys. There must be pension attorneys, to be sure, and in the beginning they were honest attorneys serving a useful purpose. But because of the possibilities for misrepresentation and easy money, a class of men were attracted to it who were no credit to the business. As evidence that these men were many of them little better than ordinary crooks it need only be stated that when a courageous pension commissioner attempted to investigate these claim agencies in 1899, the result was 24,662 registered attorneys were disqualified, leaving only 15,481 authorized to practice before the pension bureau.

Another influence in piling up the pension burden was the pension examiners who were so liberal that they recommended pensions as high as $104 a month on trifling disorders, probably due to nothing more than advancing years and improper living. A medical examining board at Baltimore even went so far as to recommend pensions for thirty-two men for heart trouble, although a later private investigation showed that every one of the thirty-two possessed a strong heart.

Then there are the politicians who found it to their interest to secure as many pensions as possible, and as large, for their constituency. Liberal and more liberal general pension laws have been passed, and it has become easier and easier to railroad private or individual pension measures through.

All of this has passed as patriotism, although, as so often happens those most instrumental in bringing it about were well paid for their patriotism.

Arm Broken In Mine

Chas. Head, an employee of the Kennedy mine, received a very painful injury to his right arm last week, while working in the shaft. A large block became unfastened, and dropped down the shaft, striking the miner on the arm just above the wrist, breaking the bone. Dr. Gall attended the injury, and relieved the victim of considerable pain.

THE AIRSHIP

It came and it went like a living thing
Over our city fair;
And it sailed on the sky on motionless wing,
This man-made bird of the air.

Our souls were stirred and our pulses thrilled
With a sense of wonder and awe;
For the dream of the ages was fulfilled
In the wonderful sight we saw.

Man had trodden the earth beneath his feet
Since his life on earth began;
He had sailed the briny seas with his fleet—
Made the waters a highway for man.

The beasts of the field—he envied them not,
Nor yet the fish of the sea;
But the birds that sailed the air, he thought,
Alone seemed wiser than he.

And he envied the birds their power of flight,
Their secret of sailing the sky;
And he pored o'er the secret by day and by night—
He can walk he can sail, he must fly!

The year and the centuries came and they went—
They went, and millenniums, too;
And man's thought and man's toil all in vain was spent,
Only God made birds that flew.

But the secret at length was a secret no more,
The old, old secret of flight,
For man at last made a bird that could soar;
He had solved the mystery—Wright.

It came one day, and the multitude gazed
As it floated athwart the sky;
It tarried, and multitudes more were amazed
At the man-made bird that could fly!

And then one bright day it floated away
Over the prairies wide—
This marvelous bird, as all men say—
This bird that a man can ride.

The most wonderful sight that our eyes have seen,
This that we gazed upon;
The wonder of wonders that are and have been—
Greater than all—save one.

There had walked this earth a wonderful Man;
He had walked the waters, too;
He had stilled the wildest waves that ran,
And the fiercest blasts that blew.
He had solved the problems of mortal life,
From the life that is, with its toil and strife,
He had passed to the life to be.
And while with His friends who are gathered there
He talks on Olivet's height,
He ascends in a body lighter than air,
Till the clouds receive Him from sight!

Let the airship come, let the airship go,
With its wonder and mystery;
Do I envy its guide and its rider? No!
Sometimes better awaiteth me.
For a day shall dawn for me, bright and fair,
And a glorious day it will be,
When clothed in a body lighter than air,
I shall rise, I shall float, I shall fly everywhere,
Like the Man of Galilee..
D. G. Carson.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Jackson Reader Will Feel Grateful for this Information

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's kidney pills will cure you.
Here is good evidence to prove it.

D. B. Dougherty, dealer in groceries and provisions, 343 Second St. Stockton, Cal., says: "Doan's Kidney pills gave entire satisfaction in my case, and consequently I do not hesitate to endorse them. Nine years ago I began to suffer from pains throughout my body. My kidneys were disordered, the secretions being distressing in passage and my back was so painful that I could not get up from a chair without using my hands as a support. When suffering in that way, I began taking Doan's kidney pills, and they went directly to the root of my trouble, restoring me to good health. I was examined by a physician not long ago and was told that there was no symptom of fault with my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve all the credit for my present good health."

Fine Game Shot In Amador County

The Sacramento Bee has this to say concerning a recent hunting expedition of E. G. Amick, formerly of Ione, but now a resident of Sacramento: One of the largest deer killed in the season just ended was that brought down by E. G. Amick last Friday after a hunting trip in Amador county, and the honor in the feat is that the deer killed has been recognized as the monarch buck of the county. For years the sportsmen of Ione and Jackson have tried in vain to bring down the big fellow, and but for Amick's good aim he would have escaped slaughter this season with but two more days left before the closing. Four shots were fired at big buck by Amick, the first and fatal one striking him in the shoulder. Two missed, and the other hit him in the hind leg. He proved a monster, weighing 240 pounds dressed. He was an eleven pointer. The beautiful head has been preserved, and will be mounted and added to Amick's already large collection.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave me up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 cents at Spagnoli's drug store.

What Voting Women Have Done.

Richard Barry lately investigate woman's suffrage for the Ladies' Home Journal in the states of Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, where full and equal suffrage is a fact. This investigation was the work of an unprejudiced man who paid as little attention as possible to personal opinions, and depended as much as he could upon facts as set forth by statistics and statutes. The result isn't creditable to the voting women.

In the four states named, equal suffrage is no experiment. In Wyoming, women have voted for forty-one years; in Colorado, for 16 years; in Utah for 15 years, and in Wyoming for 14 years. The results of Mr Barry's investigation shows that they have failed to keep the promises of the suffragettes; feminine influence in politics would mean better wages and better hours for working women, great reform in child labor laws, a decided decrease in divorces, and a positive regulation of the social evil.

The investigator found that Oklahoma, where the women do not vote, has admittedly the best child labor law, and that it was modeled after the best features of similar laws for New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Wisconsin and Nebraska, and that nothing was borrowed from states where women vote. While many states where men do the voting have provided against child labor during school hours, the states of Utah and Wyoming make restrictions of child labor apply only to work in the mines. In Colorado, the question of child labor has not even been discussed by the women's political organizations.

The criers of equal suffrage have pointed to Judge Ben Lindsey's juvenile court in Denver as an achievement of votes by women, but the investigator found that similar courts in Boston and Chicago antedated the Denver tribunal, and that fifteen states where men only vote, have similar courts. It is also admitted in Denver that juvenile crime is on the increase, despite this court.

The laws regulating the hours that woman shall work have failed of passage in the equal suffrage states, while several states where men do the voting, have secured the passage of such laws.

As to the elimination of the social evil, a quotation from the president of the Florence Grinnell home for wayward girls, indicates how it hasn't been accomplished by the women. She says: In all the seventy-eight Florence Grinnell homes in the United States, I never saw such a collection of young, innocent girls of the better class as there are in the Denver home. There are fifty-eight girls there, most of them still in their teens. The number of illegitimate births among young girls is increasing at an alarming rate. So-called 'free love' is also alarmingly on the increase." Denver and Salt Lake City are among the few remaining large cities where an open, segregated district is given over to the public practice of the social vice under police protection.

Divorces have shown a steady increase in the states where the woman in politics was to make them few. It is as easy to obtain a divorce in Colorado as in Nevada, with the exception that a year's residence is required, instead of six months. There have been no marked improvement in the marriage laws, which was another advantage promised by the suffragettes. Other states, where the men do the voting, have passed such laws, as well as laws tending to decrease the number of divorces.

Higher wages for women, another of the pleasant promises, have also failed to materialize, there being the same disparity of wages in the equal suffrage states as in others.

Women may be better than men, but they do not seem to be in politics. Mr Barry was in Denver at the time of the recent election to determine whether the city should be wet or dry. He found that women workers were purchased in as dissolute a manner as any ward heeler of Tammany. Denver went wet, and it is said there is no city in the country where women drink more than in Denver. Mr Barry also learned in Denver that the women not only sell themselves in politics, but that they fail to stay bought.

And the investigator mentions this feature of woman's suffrage, which is perhaps its worst: The woman who goes into politics inevitably loses her fitness, and in a measure her character also. She tries to meet man as an equal, and man doesn't want that; he wants her to be his superior, at least in a number of things.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

Hold Big Meeting In City
—License Issue
Hushed

The democratic candidates held their final meeting in Jackson Saturday evening, in Love's hall. The meeting was well attended. The leading issue of the campaign was omitted for some unexplained reason, throughout the county. Gregory and Vicini misrepresented the Ratto license muddle, and attempted to right themselves of the negligence. But in Jackson, no reference of any sort was made to their affair. R. C. Bole, democratic candidate for superior bench again reiterated that the claims made by certain people that the lives, liberties and protection of property lies in the palm of the judge's hand was an exaggeration.

"I have the highest personal regard for my opponent, and I believe if he does make any mistakes, they are of the head and not from the heart. No man said more kind words of him than I have. When I think of his sweet smiles and fascinating habits, I am almost tempted to cast my ballot for him myself when I enter the booth election day. U. S. Gregory was very brief in his remarks. He brought forth a round of applause when he informed his hearers that he would not sigh, lament, nor shed crocodile tears at this meeting as he was reported doing at other gatherings by Jack London, who attended many of the county meetings, and I also want to say that I ain't going to quake or tremble tonight even if Jack is here, and I know he is in our midst. If I am defeated it will not be because I have not done my duty, but because I have been belied. I have never wronged a man in my life, but I have been attacked unfairly and accused wrongfully. If I am defeated by this class of people, it means that you'll never have a decent man stick his head up for office again.

State senator, A. Caminetti, enlorged the candidates on his own ticket and applied a balm to many of the fluttering hearts in the audience who could not grasp the significance of the senator's small vote at the primaries last August.

Caminetti took it as a matter of little importance, and explained the heavy vote for Howard was due to the fact that there was no important fight in the democratic primaries. He declared in concluding that he would not only carry his district by a large majority, but that he would even carry Howard's own city in El Dorado county. He explained how he dodged the eight hour law bill for the miners, and decried the Asiatics, whom he referred to as human rats. He also decried Governor Gillett and declared he was disgracing the office of governor.

Not Sorry For Blunder

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanderson, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-raking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have been for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, influenza, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Spagnoli's drug store.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best

Do You Really Love Dogs?
Perhaps the final test of anybody's love of dogs is willingness to permit them to make a camping ground of the bed. There is no other place in the world that suits the dog quite so well. On the bed he is safe from being stepped upon, he is out of the way of drafts, he has a commanding position from which to survey what goes on in the world, and, above all, the surface is soft and yielding to his outstretched limbs. No more man can ever be so comfortable as a dog looks. Some persons object to having a dog on the bed at night, and it must be admitted that he lies a little heavily upon one's limbs, but why be so base as to prefer comfort to companionship? To wake up in the dark night and put your hand on that warm, soft body, to feel the beating of that faithful heart—is not this better than undisturbed slumber? The best night's rest I ever had was once when a cocker spaniel puppy, who had just recovered from stomach ache (dose one to two soda mints) and was a little frightened by the strange experience, curled up on my shoulder like a fur tippet, gently pushed his cold, soft nose into my neck and there slept sweetly and soundly until morning.—H. C. Merwin in Atlantic.

Absentminded Dyer.
Charles Lamb had a friend named George Dyer who was perhaps the most absentminded man on record. It was Dyer who, leaving Lamb's Islington home at broad noonday, walked straight into the New river. He was known to take up a coal scuttle instead of his hat, to walk home with a footman's cockade hat on and even to leave one of his shoes under the table and get well on his homeward way before discovering his loss. He called at a friend's one morning, heard that the family was away in the country, left his name in the visitors' book, and a few hours later called again, asked for the book again and was astonished to see his own freshly written name. Once, when Proctor breakfasted with him, Dyer forgot the tea. The omission being noted, he filled the teapot with ginger. Proctor left as soon as he could to get a better breakfast at a coffee tavern, and there Dyer strolled in and asked him how he did, quite unconscious of having seen him earlier.

Lawyer's Will.
A remarkable specimen of a lawyer's invalid will was that of Sir Joseph Jeckyll, master of the rolls, who died in 1738 and bequeathed his fortune after his wife's death to pay off the national debt. "Sir Joseph was a good man and a good lawyer," says Lord Mansfield's comment, "but his bequest was a very foolish one. He might as well have attempted to stop the middle arch of London bridge with his full bottomed wig." The testator's patriotic intentions were therefore treated as proof of mental weakness, and his will was promptly set aside. Among the many blundering wills that lawyers have made for their clients, if not for themselves, the strangest on record was that of a Dublin gentleman who left all his money to the elder son of his brother and, if he had no elder son, to the second.—London Chronicle.

Raindrops.
Drops of rain vary in their size perhaps from a twenty-fifth to a quarter of an inch in diameter. In parting from the clouds they precipitate their descent till the increasing resistance opposed by the air becomes equal to their weight, when they continue to fall with uniform velocity. This velocity is therefore in a certain ratio to the diameter of the drops; hence thunder and other showers in which the drops are large pour down faster than a drizzling rain. A drop of the twenty-fifth part of an inch in falling through the air would, when it had arrived at its uniform velocity, acquire a celerity of only eleven and a half feet per second, while one of a quarter of an inch would have a velocity of thirty-three and a half feet.

A Peacemaker.
It is a commonly accepted belief that nothing short of being pried loose will induce a bulldog to give up his grip on another dog or on an intruder, but this is a mistake. A little household ammonia poured on him as near his nose as circumstances will allow will make him let go immediately. The fumes of ammonia are so overpowering that a dog cannot possibly maintain his grip and his breath at the same time.—Country Life in America.

A Word to Parents.
Never amuse your children at the expense of other people; never allow your children to ridicule other people. Neglect this advice and the time will assuredly come when these children will amuse themselves with your follies and ridicule your authority.—Exchange.

Which Was the Worse?
"When I returned from our poker party last night my wife just looked at me; not a word was spoken."
"My wife looked at me, too, and I don't believe that a word was spoken."—Houston Post.

Reaching Conclusion.
"I imagine from your speech that you are a taxidermist."
"What makes you think so?"
"Principally because you tell me I am as wise as an owl and then try to stuff me."—Exchange.

Peaceful.

STATE MINING BUREAU WORK

State mineralogist Lewis E. Aubrey is sending out the following letter concerning the deposits of building stone, etc., in this state. It is of interest to those who are interested in marketing such products.

As you are already aware the California State Mining Bureau is engaged in the work of instituting a permanent exhibit of the structural and industrial materials of this state, which will stand in the Ferry Building, at the foot of Market street, a place that is visited daily, by more persons than any other in San Francisco. Here overland travel and local travel converge, and to this place tens of thousands of strangers come annually to view the stated exhibitions of the California State Mining Bureau and also the California development board, the latter and the State mining bureau having their quarters on the same floor of the Ferry building, hence there are special reasons why an exhibition of structural and industrial materials should attract great attention, when situated in this favored locality. There will be no charge to visitors, every one will be welcomed and a strong and constant effort will be made by the California state mining bureau to draw builders, architects, property owners, intending investors and all others, whose knowledge of your products should be of advantage to you.

A large number of California producers, whose output is similar in nature to yours, have already taken steps to be exhibitors. We desire the co-operation of all producers, to the end that each and every one may share in the benefits to be derived.

It will be necessary to make final arrangements soon, that the space may be intelligently allotted. Will you not therefore communicate with this bureau at once and make arrangements to exhibit, while yet the plans are in the final state of formation.

Hoping for an early reply, I remain
Yours very truly,
LEWIS E. AUBREY,
State Mineralogist.

A Reluctant Candidate.
During a local election in a German town only one man appeared at the nomination desk.
"Whom do you nominate?" inquired the official.
"Myself," was the answer.
"Do you accept the nomination?"
"Well, no."
The officer laughed and said:
"Then we must try again. Whom do you nominate?"
"Myself."
"You accept the nomination?"
"No."
A subdued "Donnerwetter!" escaped the lips of the perplexed official, but he went on:
"For the third time, whom do you nominate?"
"Myself," came the invariable reply.
"Do you accept the nomination?"
The man rose up, and a smile of satisfaction spread over his face as he answered proudly:
"Having been three times solicited by my fellow citizens to accept the nomination, I can no longer decline to accede to their wishes." He then retired.

The Opal.
In judging an opal color is of the greatest importance. Red fire or red in combination with yellow, blue and green is the best. Blue by itself is quite valueless, and the green opal is not of great value unless the color is very vivid and the pattern very good. The color must be true—that is to say, it must not run in streaks or patches, alternating with a colorless or inferior quality. Pattern is an important factor, the several varieties being known as "pin fire" when the grain is very small, "harlequin" when the color is in small squares, the more regular the better, and the "flash fire," or "flash opal," when the color shows as a single flash or in very large pattern. Harlequin is the most common and is also popularly considered the most beautiful. When the squares of color are regular and show as distinct minute checks of red, yellow, blue and green it is considered magnificent. Some stones show better on edge than on top.—Exchange.

Kept Them Dancing.
A Washington official, speaking of blunders in the diplomatic service, told of a mistake committed by an American in Afghanistan. He said:

"This American entertained the shahzada for three days, giving him a very handsome suit of rooms in his house. The morning of the shahzada's arrival the American host visited him in his apartment and was amazed to see the royal guest and his entire staff hopping about the floor in the oddest way. They conversed politely and gravely; but, instead of walking, they hopped, taking great leaps of eight or nine feet. The host ventured to ask the reason of this hopping. The shahzada politely replied:

"You see, this carpet is green, with pink roses here and there. Green is a sacred color with us, so we are obliged to hop from rose to rose. It is good exercise, but rather fatiguing, I confess."

A Lively Office.
In his recollections in Blackwood's Magazine Sir Robert Anderson tells an amusing story of the days when he was employed at the home office. On his arrival one morning at the office he found a note from Sir James Fergusson's private secretary—his intimates called him "Creepie"—announcing that at 3 o'clock precisely an old hat, lately the property of the chief clerk, would be kicked off from the end of the corridor and requesting the favor of Sir Robert's presence. When Big Ben struck 3. Sir Robert heard Creepie's cheery voice ring out, "All on side; play!" They all turned out and the game began. On emerging from an unusually hot scrimmage Sir Robert became conscious of the presence of a stranger at his side, a timid little Frenchman, who meekly inquired, "Is ziss ze office for ze naturalization?" Sir Robert adds, "It was!"

Why He Cried.
The sympathetic neighbor asked: "Is your little brother ill this morning, Johnnie? I heard him crying in the most heartrending manner."
"No; not exactly," Johnnie explained, "but Willie pulled down a jug of molasses on himself in the pantry, and mother has been trying to comb his hair."—Exchange.

Livingstone.
Of Dr. Livingstone it was said by Stanley that the missionary lived for years among the most cruel and ignorant savages in the world, but he never fired a shot in anger, never "clubbed or clouted or banned or blasted." His manner was that of a "cool, wise old man who felt offended and looked grave."

Circumstances Reversed.
Unkempt Smith—Mister, would you kindly help a poor man as is all in, down and out? Jocular Citizen—Why, certainly. Just climb the fire escape on that skyscraper across the street and walk in on the top floor. Then you will be all out, up and in.—Judge's Library.

It's Good Point.
"But," asked the long haired young man, "is there nothing at all about poetry that you like?"
"Yes," replied Crabbe. "Whenever I see a poem it makes me feel good to realize that there's no law to compel me to read it."—Catholic Standard and Times.

No grip is so hard to shake off as that of early convictions.—Maurice Thompson.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

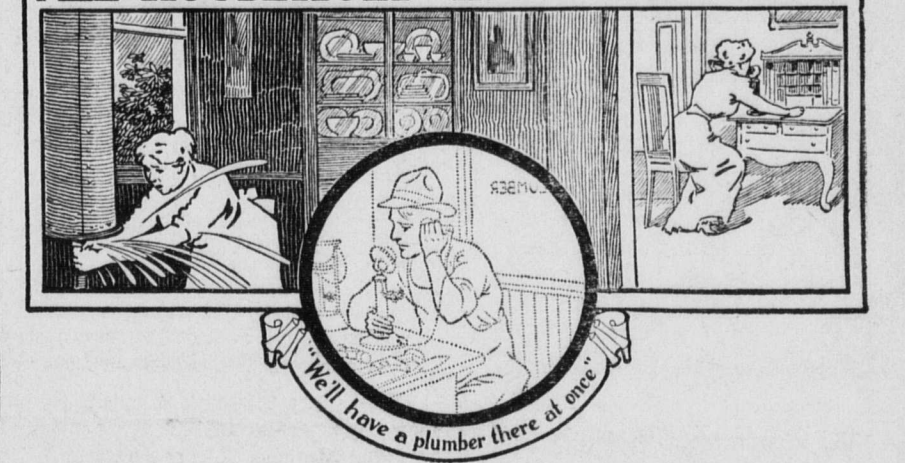

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

REPUBLICAN
SPEEKERS

Audience Carried Away
With Emotion While
Judge Spoke

Jackson was the scene of one of the grandest political meetings ever held in the county, last Monday evening, when the republican party nominees assembled in Love's hall and declared their qualifications for the offices which they were seeking.

After a few opening remarks by B. F. Taylor, W. H. Greenhalgh was appointed chairman.

The school superintendent addressed the large audience which packed the hall, and thanked the people for nominating him to the office he now holds and promised to do his duty to the very best of his ability in carrying out and performing his duties in the future as in the past.

H. E. Potter, nominee for coroner and public administrator, was then introduced and discussed the duties pertaining to his office.

The aspirant for the office of county treasurer, Fred B. LeMoin was next introduced. I am only present to show myself to the new voters in the audience. The duties of the county treasurer office do not require any efficiency in oratory.

Im told I'm the clown of this circus or menagerie, and if I talk too long I'll spoil the whole show. Now, he added, when I tell you the rest of my record, don't think I'm too terrible bad, but as you all know I was superintendent of the county hospital for a term, and after I left the hospital, I was sent to the reformed school at Lone. This remark, told with the dry humor of the speaker, brought his audience into a roar of merriment.

Nominee for county surveyor, Gustave Schroeder, addressed the meeting and was followed by candidate Reale, who aspired to the office of recorder.

The Jackson band rendered a very much enjoyed selection, after which Wm. Snyder, candidate for district attorney as presented by the chairman. Mr Snyder said: Friends and fellow citizens of the city of Jackson and vicinity, I trust I may say to you that I am glad to be among you to-night. He took up issues which claimed to have been found existing throughout the county, detrimental to his chances in securing or holding votes.

He ventilated a charge made against him concerning the liquor question, and very effectively proved that he was a competent attorney by his successful practice before the bar of this county.

John Marchant, candidate for assessor, gave a very good discussion on the tax rate proposition.

Jas. Jay Wright, who recently announced himself as a candidate for the position of justice of the peace of township one, next spoke. He explained what he considered important to the voter in properly voting for him as his name did not appear on the ballot.

The candidate for sheriff, John S. Davis, was next introduced, and the audience which had accorded each previous candidates a hearty applause, fairly went wild in applause, after quietness was restored Davis in a clear and distinct voice said: I present myself to you to-night as a candidate for the office of sheriff and tax collector of your county.

I am not an orator, neither a professional politician, and I trust you will not judge my general abilities for the office, either by my speaking, or my appearances.

I shall promise if elected to the office, to do my utmost in providing the necessary protection for you.

The band rendered another selection, after which the Hon. Fred V. Wood was presented.

The judge, when presented, was accorded a rousing reception. He received the most enthusiastic ovation given any of the speakers.

After treating his audience to several side splitting jokes, his countenance changed, and a serious determined look took possession of the jovial face.

The world is getting better and improving, he said. There were no hospitals or asylums in ancient times. Although many lived in palaces of gold, to-day scientists are working harder to prevent sickness than they are to cure it, and the same methods are being considered in dealing with criminals.

Between 600 and 700 criminals are turned loose each year from our penitentiaries, they come forth branded as criminals, and are worse in character than they were upon entering.

The probatoin law is intended to alleviate this condition of affairs, but it is not intended for the hardened criminal.

He fully explained the probation law, and the juvenile court law, and in conclusion thanked his audience for past favors.

The meeting was brought to a close amid deafening applause.
